

Alto Coalition for Environmental Preservation presents a
FREE Lecture by
NMSU Assistant Professor &
Extension Entomology Specialist
Dr. Joanie King

Insectwise: Insects of
New Mexico—the Beneficials & the Pests
Tuesday, Oct. 29
5-7 p.m.

ENMU-Ruidoso Branch
Community College
Room 201, 709 Mechem, Ruidoso, N.M.

Dr. Joanie King is a is an NMSU assistant professor and Extension entomologist. She earned a doctorate degree in entomology from Texas A&M University, a master's degree of science in entomology from the University of Georgia, and a bachelor's degree of science in biology from the University of Central Florida. Alongside her Extension and outreach focus, Dr. King's lab focuses on host-parasite interactions, community ecology, and integrated pest management (IPM). In addition to serving the NMSU community through Extension and research, she is active in the Entomological Society of America. Sharing bug science is cool!

Our mission is to preserve and maintain the health and beauty of our mountain home for all its inhabitants. The Alto Coalition for Environmental Preservation (Alto CEP) is a New Mexico Non-Profit Corporation and 501 (c) (3) public charity, run by non-paid volunteers. The Alto CEP works to preserve and sustain the environment of our beautiful mountain surroundings, through community involvement, education and action.